Minimum Number of Participants - 10
Maximum Number of Participants - 20

Events:

- Quad Practice
- Quadraker
- Swamp Crossing
- Licence to Kill (Paintball Guns)
- Q's Conundrum
- Double Agent Unmasking
- Champagne prize to winning team

Time Required: 4 ½ - 5 hours

Price: £165 inc VAT per head

Quad Practice & Quadraker (Options 1 & 2)

Using Quad Bikes team members have to find 16 points around the 250 acre site using local maps. These are located adjacent to the 8 miles of private internal tracks, roadways and headlands. Each point will have a question relating to the gadgets used in the various films.

Half the team will be out with the instructor at any one time, whilst the others are back at HQ researching the answers. They will be in contact with each other by radio.

Swamp Crossing (Options 1 & 2)

Swamp Crossing – unlike in “Dr No” where 007 and Honey Ryder hide underwater and breathe through reeds to escape the deadly Doctor’s henchmen, here the objective is to keep above the water, in order to collect and defuse a bomb.

Raft building skills come to the fore, but Q has very little input.

At least there are none of Dr Kananga’s crocodiles around looking for an early lunch – or are there?

Licence to Kill (Paintball Guns) (Options 1 & 2)

Following M’s confiscation of 00.7’s Beretta, he was issued with the Walther PPK.

Whilst we do not use this piece of kit, the Paintball Marker Guns can be used to very satisfactorily obliterate the targets by covering them in paint.

The better the shooting, the more gold bars for the team.

Minfield Crossing (Option 1)

Q has let you down and provided you with decidedly low-tech tools to enable you and your team to cross the deadly minefield.

Working as a team, can you foil the evil enemy and make it across in one piece before you are spotted and eliminated?

Q's Conundrum (Option 2)

Q has had his budget slashed: out go the Aston Martins and other exotica, so this one is definitely for your eyes only.

Teams have to build one of these Gallic icons (a.k.a. the Citroen 2CV) using a wide variety of parts. Despite it looking as though it has finally met its maker, all the parts fit somewhere - or do they? Once built, the team outwit Cristatos' henchmen around the hairpin bends and then dismantle it, before the bad guys catch up with this little beauty.

Double Agent Unmasking (Options 1 & 2)

In a World of bluff and double-bluff each team may find that one of their members has been recruited to work for the other side. An Oxbridge education is not a pre-requisite as anyone could have been "turned" whether it is by moral arguments, sexual blackmail or by good old fashioned financial greed.

If they do exist, their duty is to undermine their own side without getting caught! At the end of the day each team will have the opportunity to decide if they have a spy in their midst.

Get it right and they will have the pleasure of having the spy buy the drinks for the rest of the weekend; get it wrong and you will have made a serious enemy!

Champagne prize to winning team (Options 1 & 2)

Prices include instructors, safety equipment where required, refreshments, all activities mentioned above and Champagne prize

Clothing

All participants must wear sturdy footwear, warm, waterproof clothing, long trousers, long-sleeved tops and thin gloves. Bring a complete change of warm kit & footwear. THIS IS ESSENTIAL THROUGHOUT THE YEAR.
